SUMMARY

Full-stack developer with hands-on experience building production Django applications, currently interning as a Python Full-Stack Developer. Strong foundation in backend architecture, REST APIs, and database design, paired with a growing command of frontend craftsmanship and product design. Builder of Nextern, an AI-powered campus placement platform, and MadhavVerse, a personal design-engineering portfolio.

EXPERIENCE

Python Full-Stack Developer Intern — GT Software, Coimbatore, Tamil Nadu

Current

- Engineered and shipped full-stack features end-to-end using Python, Django, and JavaScript, taking work from schema design through UI integration.
- Designed and integrated REST APIs to power seamless frontend-backend data exchange across core application modules.
- Modeled relational database schemas and wrote optimized SQL queries to support efficient, scalable data access.
- Contributed within a Git/GitHub-based workflow, including feature branching, pull requests, and peer code review.

PROJECTS

Nextern — AI-Powered Campus Placement Management System

Django, Python, SQLite, Bootstrap 5, Google Gemini API

- Architected a complete Django 5.2 backend across three apps (accounts, students, jobs) with a custom role-based User model supporting students, recruiters, and admins.
- Integrated the Google Gemini API to power an AI Interview Question Generator that creates role-specific interview questions for students.
- Implemented secure authentication and role-based access control governing permissions across user types.

MadhavVerse — Personal Portfolio Website

HTML, CSS, JavaScript

- Designed and built a personal brand portfolio with a distinctive “Terminal meets Studio” aesthetic, including asymmetric layouts and a bento-grid stats section.
- Implemented a three-font typography system and scroll-based animations for a polished, recruiter-facing presentation of projects and skills.
